

WEEKLY REPORT
02/01/15-02/07/15

Our newest Police Officer Casey Rivers graduated the Delaware State Police Academy last Friday. Casey began his field training on the midnight shift Sunday night into Monday morning.

Three of our five new police recruits, Shannon Craig, Matt Coughlin, and Alex Whitt, began working at the police department this week. Ms. Craig brings past experience working for the Department of Corrections and Delaware Probation and Patrol. Two other recruits will soon begin working at the police department and all five will attend the Delaware State Police Academy beginning in March. We welcome all of our new hires to the City of Newark team.

On Thursday February, 12th, eleven officers of the Newark Police Department were promoted in rank. The promotions range from Master Corporal up to Deputy Chief of Police. The police department thanks Deputy City Manager Andrew Haines for his work on the reorganization of the rank structure in the police department.

The police department has been very busy with the return of the university students. We have also begun our mandatory first of three firearms qualifications of the year. Various units of the police department have been assisting patrol with personnel shortages due to this training.
